

Chloe Stratta, Soprano – Website Privacy Policy May 2018

Chloe Stratta is a data controller for information collected via www.chloestratta.co.uk

Information I retain:

- I retain names and email addresses submitted via the 'contact me' web form

How this information is collected:

- This information is obtained by someone contacting me through my website

How this information is used:

- This information is only used to reply directly to any enquiries (ie. No marketing unless that is what the user has asked for)

Legal Basis for Retaining information:

- My legal basis for retaining this information is legitimate interest; it is as much in the interest of the user as it is in mine

How this information is stored:

- If you use the web submission form on my website (www.chloestratta.co.uk) to make initial contact, then wix.com will automatically store your contact details on my wix account. Wix stores its data outside of the EU. Their privacy policy can be found at <https://www.wix.com/about/privacy>. I will delete contacts from my wix account on a regular basis.
- If a professional relationship is formed as a result of this initial contact and as a result regular communication is maintained (eg. Regular singing lessons, hiring for an event), then I will store any contact information you have given me on my google contacts (both accessible via my computer and smartphone).
- PLEASE NOTE that by giving me your data, you are agreeing for it to be stored by google, as this is the method I use. By using google cloud services (including gmail and google contacts), information is stored and transferred outside of the EU. Google's full privacy policy and GDPR information can be read here: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en-GB>

Cookies:

- Wix.com automatically uses cookies on its user's websites, to anonymously track visitor usage. Information about these cookies can be found here <https://www.aboutcookies.org/cookie-faq/>
- I do not use these cookies to track information about visitors to my website

Your Rights

- You have right of access to see and to rectify any information stored about you, and to request that it be deleted.
